COOKE IS ACQUITTED

Alberta to Have All-Weather Road From U.S. to B.C.

Hard-Surfacing of Highway Coutts to Morinville Planned

An all-weather Alberta road from the International border to the northern part of British Columbia will be completed this year.

This was disclosed Friday by Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, who said a hard-surfaced road would be completed from Coutts on the U.S. border to Morinville, north of Edmonton early this season.

From Morinville north to the Hythe-Pouce Coupe road, the highway would be a standard gravel road, Mr. Fallow said.

Another major project for which tenders have been called is the road from Styal to Carrot Creek, near Edson, already under way by the necessary standard, Mr. Fallow said.

Rebuilding of the road from Edson to the Highway 160 junction is also contemplated.

Mr. Fallow said one of the first jobs to be undertaken would be the completion of the part of the Highway 160 from Edson to the point near Spruce Grove where hard-surfacing ceased last fall.

He revealed plans to construct a number of other roads in different sections of the province, but said he was only announcing the road work now in hand by the government.

Other major projects would be announced later, he said.

Germans Strike
MUNICH, April 9.—(Reuters). Some 1,000 workers in the Bavarian electrical industry began a strike Thursday in Munich, Nuremberg, Erlangen and Regensburg. The workers are demanding certain back payments.

Barbers' Opinion
Veteran Edmonton barbers said confidently.

"We have heard the last of the libel conspiracy case," they said.

The Crown entered the stay in proceedings after Mr. Justice McBride rejected the charges against Cooke, Dignam and Dr. Whitton must be held before the charge of counselling to libel against Cooke.

U.S. Air Force Plane In Forced Landing On Northern Lake
A U.S. Air Force transport, carrying an unknown number of passengers, made a forced landing on a flooded lake, 64 miles northeast of the Pas, Manitoba, shortly before noon today.

Full details of the crash were not known, but it was reliably learned no one had been injured in the crash.

The plane was a four-engined C-54 Douglas transport.

Major Ainsley was not immediately known.

At South Porcupine, Ont., Barbara Ann told the Journal in a telephone interview that she was "interested, even thrilled" at news of the offer.

The paper quoted her as saying she had heard nothing but it was possible that her lawyer, J. S. D. Torg of Toronto or Air Marshal W. A. Bishop, her guardian, had been negotiating with Frink.

The paper quoted Leroy Frink, producer-in-charge of musical revues at Warner Brothers studios, as saying in a telephone conversation that negotiations are continuing with the 19-year-old figure-skating queen. A weekly salary of $2,500 was reported as offered.

Publisher Cooke Epitome Of Jubilation at Verdict

By Jack DeLong
Jubilation that walked, talked and gesticulated! That was Jack Kent Cooke, Ontario's foremost candidate for "best-dressed man" and dynamic publisher of New Liberty magazine, after acquittal on counselling to publish defamatory libel today.

Seconds after he stepped from the prisoner's dock in Edmonton supreme court a free man, his right arm arched from a veritable orgy of handshaking.

Women rushed to get autographs. Men and women he had never spoken to in his life stepped him on the back.

HAPPY-YOU BET
To say Cooke was happy is a grossly "underneath" understatement.

"I am delighted! Absolutely delighted!" were his very words for publication or any other uses that anyone wished to make of them.

He was seriously just long enough to say:

"The integrity of the Alberta courts is fully as high as in any other province in Canada."

Through his counsel, Joseph Sedgewick of Toronto, Cooke publicly expressed regret for any embarrassment his actions may have caused the Royal Commission probing Alberta child welfare.

He had no intention of embarrassing the Royal Commission, he declared.

LEAVING TONIGHT
Cooke planned to leave tonight by plane for Toronto.

Harold Dignam, author of the famous "Babies for Export" article which led to the trial, has already left Edmonton.

Armed Support Now Seems Sure

U. S. Military Aid to Bolster West Europe Against Russia

By John M. Hightower

WASHINGTON, April 9.—(AP)—The projected Western European union now seems sure of strong United military support as a way to strengthen the west against feared Russian expansion.

In the opinion of Washington officials, however, several major problems remain to be worked out, including the precise form this support may take.

Belgian Premier Paul Henri Spaak, who has conferred this week with President Truman, told a press conference that the European countries will ask later on for military as well as recovery help.

First, Spaak said, they want to consolidate their new organization which so far has gone through only the first stages.

Spaak was one of the prime movers in a five-power meeting at Brussels a month ago which drafted a treaty for economic, political and military co-operation among the Western States.

The five countries which did the drafting were Britain, France, The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

UNITED STATES ON RECORD

The United States in statements by Truman and State Secretary Marshall, is on record as approving the formation of the Western bloc.

Even before Truman spoke, state and defense department officials had been studying what steps along that line the American government might take. Their studies recently have been intensified, and Robert Lovett, undersecretary of state, told a press conference Wednesday that some definite ideas now have been worked out although to formal policy decision has yet been made.

Once this decision is reached, government officials feel that decisive promises made to the countries of Western Europe will carry much more weight—both in reassuring the Western Europeans and in warning Russians against the United States make business.

Two main lines of action are foreseen. One is for the United States to undertake the arming of Western European forces insofar as they need assistance in the form of guns, ammunition, planes, tanks and the like.

The other is the form of an out-right military alliance which the American government might make with the Western bloc as a whole. The Senate would have to ratify any such pact as this and the whole Congress would have to approve the arming decision by passing on money requests.

"By a coincidence I have blank checks and a fountain pen with me, Mr. Bixby."

The next point I feel in duty bound to mention is to the witnesses.

"I have been impressed by the obvious sincerity and subtleties of all of them, both for the Crown and the defence. There has not been the slightest attempt to be careless of the truth or contemptuous of the intelligence of the jury on the part of any one of them."

Earlier the trial judge said: "It has been said on other occasions and I desire to place it in the forefront of this judgment that there is no more solemn or heavy responsibility placed on the judiciary than that of the administration of criminal law and justice—of meeting out swift punishment to the convicted wrongdoer, and of acquitting any accused person whose guilt has not been established beyond a reasonable doubt."

Mr. Justice McBride said he had read with "scrupulous care" the article complained of and has considered the "likely effect of the article."

"Neither have I overlooked," said the court, "the point advanced by the defence that none of the individuals alleged to have been defamed is expressly mentioned by name in the text."

Publication of the New Liberty magazine article was "not controllable" in a public interest, Crown counsel C. S. Blanchard, declared in the final phase of the libel counselling trial Thursday.

Mr. Blanchard was summing up for the prosecution. The magazine article could not possibly beget a public interest, Crown counsel C. S. Blanchard, declared in the final phase of the libel counselling trial Thursday.

He denied the Crown was intent on "burning" the accused as a criminal.

Earlier Joseph Sedgwick, defence counsel, had added the Crown was determined to "brand Cooke as a common criminal for all time."

Mr. Blanchard further stated that he admired Mr. Cooke for his success in life and thought he had set a good example for other young men to follow in business careers.

On the other hand Crown counsel felt there could be no doubt that Cooke had counselled publicity to follow in business careers.

He charged that Cooke had "persisted" in distribution of the magazine after being told it was defamatory material that would leave members of the Alberta child welfare commission in a bad light.

Today, the magazine article could not possibly beget a public interest, Crown counsel C. S. Blanchard, declared in the final phase of the libel counselling trial Thursday.

He denied the Crown was intent on "burning" the accused as a criminal.

Earlier Joseph Sedgwick, defence counsel, had added the Crown was determined to "brand Cooke as a common criminal for all time."

Mr. Blanchard further stated that he admired Mr. Cooke for his success in life and thought he had set a good example for other young men to follow in business careers.

On the other hand Crown counsel felt there could be no doubt that Cooke had counselled publicity to follow in business careers.

He charged that Cooke had "persisted" in distribution of the magazine after being told it was defamatory material that would leave members of the Alberta child welfare commission in a bad light.

Jewish Forces Seize Kastel

By ELIYU SIMON
JERUSALEM, April 9.—(BUP)—The Jewish Agency spokesman said today that the battle-scarred village of Kastel on the highway to Tel Aviv just outside Jerusalem, a Jewish Agency spokesman reported.

The agency spokesman, Michael Conay, said Hagana commando-attacked at Kastel Friday morning and wrested the strategic village from the Arab forces who had seized control of the highway.

The Kastel battle was reported to be only one of a half dozen engagements blasting through the Jewish hills as Arabs and Jews fought for control of strategic heights dominating the Tel-Aviv highway, lifeline of supply for 10,000 Jews in Jerusalem.

OTHER BATTLES
Other battles were reported raging along the border area in the north and on the Jezreel plain southeast of Haifa.

Observers believed the fighting in the Jewish hills west of Jerusalem would develop into a large-scale battle, with both sides bringing in reinforcements to gain control of the highway.

British sources said the Hagana attack to recapture Kastel was paced by two air raids in which 10 bombs were dropped. None of the bombs caused any casualties, the British said, but one group damaged the radio mast at nearby Kibbutz police station.

ALBERTA GOVT. HOPES FOR SPEEDIER ACTION

Alberta government hopes for speedier action than could be gained from a Royal Commission on the freight rates investigation.

RAIL SHIPPERS RUSH FREIGHT BEAT DEADLINE

Canadian National Railways freight office here has been kept extra busy during the early part of the week as city shippers rushed to beat the freight rate increase. A CNR official said today.

The new rate, a boost of 21 per cent on all rates for 10 months, a hundredweight, went into effect at one minute past midnight Wednesday.

It was believed, however, that a considerable amount of the extra freight which usually goes by truck could not be transported that way.

No extra amount of freight was reported handled by Canadian Pacific Railway here.

Fund Nearing Its Objective

Contributions to the 1948 Red Cross Appeal in Alberta now stand at $127,000, or 80 per cent of the $150,000 provincial objective, according to Red Cross officials Friday.

Reports from Southern Alberta have been exceptionally favorable. Red Cross officials stated, though receipts in the southern part of the province are still considerably below the objective for the area.

When the man did nothing but mumble in reply to questions, Magistrate H. L. Hawke took a plea of not guilty.

A constable testified the man had been found sleeping in an hotel lobby on various occasions.

An Ukrainian constable interpreted some of the mumbling as meaning, "I have nothing to say."

PRISON IMPROVEMENTS ARE SOUGHT

Education Vital Weapon In War Against Crime

Educate to defeat crime. Not only educate the prisoner but also the public.

This was the essence of an address Thursday by Joseph McCulley, deputy commissioner of penitentiaries, at a large meeting in Edmonton public library regarding the formation of a John Howard Society here, which society would play a large part in the re-establishment of released prisoners from penal institutions.

He spoke of contemplated improvements in federal penitentiaries and also stressed the importance of organizations to do "follow up" work with inmates on their release.

He said there must be an improvement in the attitude of the public toward released convicts.

"Just because a man has been in a penal institution once, twice, or even three times there is no reason for him to be counted out forever," Mr. McCulley stated.

He said the government has started to institute academic, elementary and vocational courses for prisoners in federal penitentiaries.

The chief trouble now, he said, is in increasing the facilities to cope with the prisoners' enthusiasm toward the courses.

It is also contemplated, he said, to form special institutions to deal with sex offenders and drug addicts.

The latest thing adopted by the government is correct training of penal institution officers.

The Canadian Legion, through the department of veterans' affairs, has been supplying veterans in penitentiaries with study courses, and that service, he said, is now being extended to include others.

In his introduction of the speaker Mayor Harry Ainlay said a man had come to him with a problem following his release from prison—"on account of his prison record he had lost four jobs."

"Because a man makes a mistake he has to be continually kicked in the face," stated the mayor.

President's Report Shows Big Gain For Credit Unions

Planes Carry Cattle Feed

Builders and airplanes are taking part in the war against cattle starvation in Alberta.

Eight ski-equipped aircraft are being used by ranchers in isolated cases in southern Alberta to bring coarse grains to starving herds of cattle, according to information coming to Edmonton Friday.

A. M. Wilson, fields crops commissioner, department of agriculture, said a bulldozer had been called into action in a northwest section of the province to a cache of 60 tons of hay.

The hay is now being baled and will be ready for shipment soon. Hay prices have gone up an average of about a ton a ton in the same time last year. Mr. Wilson said. Price today ranges from $15 to $25 a ton, depending on the quality of the feed.

The price increase was justified, explaining price increases in baling hay had occurred and it was bound to add cost to the buyer. He said there had been a few cars of feed available but telegrams from the 10-union, Hanna areas had arrived before it had time to turn around, giving shipping lines success.

New Producers Leduc Field

Two more wells have been added to the list of Leduc producers in the past 48 hours to bring the total of successful completions since March 12 to 12 wells.

The combined open flow potential of 12 wells is estimated at 2,000 barrels per day for an average of 2,000 barrels per well.

The two new wells both producing from the D3 zone.

Imperial Leduc No. 32 has an open flow potential of 2,700 barrels per day on the basis of an eight-hour test.

Imperial Leduc No. 47 has a potential of 2,000 barrels per day on the basis of a similar trial flow. Both wells are in well developed parts of the field.

Imperial Leduc No. 60 has been added to the list of Leduc producers in the past 48 hours to bring the total of successful completions since March 12 to 12 wells.

The new hole is located on lid 11, 20-30-26 which places it in the west of the Home Oil wells and three quarters of a mile east of Globe-Well No. 1.

Extremely brisk bidding featured the sale of finished cattle at Edmonton departmental and chain stores competing with packers and merchants from district points for the choice beef offerings.

Heavy purchases, include C. Woodward Ltd., Safeway Ltd., Swift Canadian Co., Canada Packers Ltd., Gainers Ltd., King Edward Hotel, Burns Co. Ltd., Calgary Packers Ltd., Royal George Hotel, Weiler and Williams, O. A. Brown, Ltd., Alberta Livestock Co-Operative, Ketchum Packers.

Calgary May Put Meters in Taxis

CALGARY, April 9.—(CP)—Installation of fare meters in Calgary taxicabs was recommended by the city legislative committee Thursday. Acting on a request by the Calgary Taxi Cab Operators Association that meters be made compulsory for all cabs, the committee agreed the move providing a petition favoring the legislation was signed by two-thirds of the 60-taxi owners operating here.

PENITENTIARY U. COURSE "FREE"

Free education for inmates in the penitentiary is going to be the first place to get it—of you call it in to jail free.

Joseph McCulley, deputy commissioner of penitentiaries, says it is contemplated that in the future prisoners may take educational courses while in the elementary stages to university education while serving time.

This summer one man is leaving a penal institution to enroll in a university.

Penal Institutions Cost $6,000,000 Year

Interesting statistics were presented to the Edmonton public Thursday by Joseph McCulley, deputy commissioner of penitentiaries.

Estimated cost of seven federal penal institutions for the current year is $6,000,000 or $7,000 per man.

Present population in the seven penitentiaries is between 3,750 and 3,800.

Quebec has the largest number of inmates with 1,100.

Present population for the seven was in 1937—a total of 4,587.

Industries within the penitentiaries, operated by inmates, were worth $350,000 to the federal government last year.

Five thousand acres of land farmed by inmates were worth $241,000 in products.

Teaching staff in the institutes has now been increased from 19 to 16.

One dollar per convict is spent on libraries in a year by the government.

Per year's book circulation in the institutes was 366,132 or 96 books per inmate.

Over a six year survey about 70 per cent have not returned.

No man or woman is released without a train ticket to home and must have at least $20 cash. Pay in the "pen" is five cents a day.

Secret Service Experiences Told

Experiences in the British Secret Service during the past war that included three weeks torture at the hands of the Gestapo were told by George Du Pre to the Northern Branch of the National Association of Plumbers and Heating Contractors. He was guest speaker at their supper meeting Thursday evening at the Roseville Club.

He told of the past war, outbreak of war, Du Pre joined the Secret Service in 1940. After a long period of training in England for the part of a half-wit French mechanic, he was sent to the then-occupied country to help air crews escape. The speaker told of his torture and refusal to disclose his identity. "I do not hate the Germans," said Mr. Du Pre who considers that men in the Gestapo were selected because they were not of the same type as the President of the Northern Branch.

Branch of the organization for the coming year will be Dr. E. Mould of Edmonton. The retiring president is William Carr, also of Edmonton. In accepting office, Mould announced that a general meeting will be held in the coming week.

Labor Code Bill Given Approval

Govt. Unlikely to Extend Scope Of Legislation Despite Pressure

By John Leblanc

OTTAWA, April 9.—(CP)—Amid indications that the government will not bow to pressure for extending its scope, the federal labor code bill received second reading—approval in principle—in the Commons yesterday and was sent to the industrial relations committee.

In reply to CCF requests for broadening its jurisdiction, Labor Minister Mitchell said the Commons did not want to let loose on the rights of the provinces in industrial relations committee.

In its present form, the measure gives the Dominion authority over such inter-provincial industries as railroads, shipping and communications. It could be extended to any other industry only by concurrent provincial legislation.

STEP INTO DISPUTES
Mr. Mitchell also said Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg North Centre) that where the provinces desired, the federal labor department would be able to step into a dispute such as last year's country-wide strike in the meat-packing industry.

Mr. Knowles had urged that the packing industry be brought under the bill, as it was "clearly national in scope." Earlier, the Commons had informed the Commons the government was hopeful of a settlement within a few days in the two-coast strike of officers on despatch vessels.

Trade Minister Howe said the government and as yet made no approach to the provincial governments on the passage of complementary legislation to bring the marketing of oats and barley under the wheat board. Federal legislation to take effect was adopted two weeks ago.

WANTED TIME, GETS CLOCK

CHICAGO, April 9.—(AP)—A 31-year-old brunette said yesterday in superior court that when she asked her husband what time it was, he threw the clock at her.

And, Mrs. Eleanor Eke said, he said:

"What do you care. You have a face that would stop a clock!"

She was granted a divorce.

MP Is Ribbed On Speeches

OTTAWA, April 9.—(CP)—Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg North Centre) took a gentle ribbing in the Commons Thursday when he complained about the high cost of having his speeches repeated.

Knowles complained the King's Printer charged him $62.77 for 4,000 copies of a 12-page speech in Commons.

"Not enough," shouted Liberals and Progressive Conservative members said laughing.

"From the replies I have been getting it was worth a lot more," said Knowles.

IN SERIOUS VEIN
Then in a serious vein, he said that before passing the order he had consulted the chair of the Commons by the King's Printer. This showed the order would cost $6.

When Knowles complained to the printer his attention was drawn to a statement made in Commons by State Secretary Gibson. Gibson had said that Parliament had left it to the King's Printer to set such charges as he deemed worthy to cover costs of reprinting speeches.

Knowles said the printer had not replied to his charges. He felt the printer had acted in a "high-handed" way by charging higher rates without advising members.

removed his left eye and told him he never would see again. But he refused to give up hope of returning to the stage.

At last, through heavy glasses of return and a contact lens he was able to see again. He had lost his way back from total blindness, the content and confidence of the eye of his first Shakespeare Festival.

His actress wife, Nora Swinburne, and this year's leading lady at the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre here, Diana Hayward, have taught him his part by reading to him in the light cannot see. He now is letter-printer in rehearsal as Gratiano in "The Merchant of Venice."

Knigh was blinded in H.M.S. "Cerberus" when he was a boy. He had served only in Britain against the Blitzmark Surgeons

Shut-Down Leaves 600,000 Workers Idle

PITTSBURGH, April 9.—(AP)—The number of workers idle in the 25-day-old pension-dispute coal shutdown Thursday climbed steadily toward the 600,000 mark. New industrial cutbacks were reported throughout the United States.

Violence marked renewed efforts of roving pickets to close up union mining in West Virginia as steel mills announced new production cutbacks were due next week.

The big United States steel corporation, world's largest producer, said it was losing 7,000 tons of steel production a day in the Pittsburgh district.

The idle workers included 400,000 soft coal miners who stopped work March 15 in support of demands for pension. 25,000 anthracite miners in Pennsylvania who quit work in sympathy. 45,000 steel workers, 30,000 railroaders and remainder in related industries.

In Washington, the Association of Railroad and coal cardholders last week dropped more than 18,000 from the figure for the same week in 1947.

$10 Increase in Pensions For Needy First War Vets

OTTAWA, April 9.—(CP)—A $10-a-month increase will be paid to needy veterans of the First World War now receiving assistance under the War Veterans Allowance Act.

Veterans Minister Gregg announced the increase last night in Commons and said it would be paid as well to the widows and orphans of the veterans.

The allowance of married veterans will be increased from $60 to $70 a month. The single veteran $50 to $60.

"Oleo" Fight Is Continuing

OTTAWA, April 9.—(CP)—James Sinclair, Liberal commons member for Vancouver North, Thursday carried to the parliamentary process committee his fight for the lifting of Canada's marriage ban.

The westerner, whose bill for raising the ban has been hanging fire in the commons for several months, is not a member of the price committee but moved in on it to direct some marriage-slanted questions at J. H. Duplan, president of the National Dairy Council.

The council represents 500 dairy producers and sellers, who generally are opposed to the manufacture, sale or importation of butter substitutes in the Dominion.

Mr. Sinclair asked if that organization had thought of making inquiries regarding the import of margarine or "relating" its opposition to the sale of it.

Mr. Duplan conceded margarine was an "important question." But he did not make any representation to the government, considering the matter one of government policy.

ONE CITY "BINGE" ENOUGH FOR MOOSE

LEWISTON, Me., April 9.—(AP)—A big cow moose looped nervously back to the hinterland early yesterday—for good, police hoped—after a turbulent midnight ramble through this textile city's business district.

The animal emerged from a residential area, peered through a shoe factory window at a startled night watchman and dove 40 feet into the Androscoggin river.

Clambering ashore, it sought refuge in two parking lots until Game Warden Stillman Johnson directed a growing throng of moose-wranglers in a manoeuvre that showed the fugitive on its way toward Lisbon woods.

Jewelry Firm Used as Butter As Premiums

By D'Arcy O'Donnell
OTTAWA, April 9.—(CP)—Officials of a Montreal jewelry firm Thursday told the Commons prices committee they had bought 5,600 pounds of butter to give away as premiums on sales. Only 37 pounds were used before prices board investigators urged them to discontinue the practice.

It had 300 pounds of the 5,600 purchased were returned to a butter wholesaler—David Bernier of Montreal.

Maurice Gauthier and Paul Pelchat, co-owners of two jewelry stores, said they thought the butter from Bernier at 98 cents a pound. They gave him $2,000 for $2,864, which they asked him not to cash for a few days.

Then they advertised that they would give away a pound of butter with every purchase of $10 or more. This was done March 31 and 200 pounds of butter was drawn from the stocks in Bernier's warehouse. Prices board investigators stopped the sale after the first day.

RETAINED SOME BUTTER
The jewelry stores still had 160 pounds of butter on hand when the investigators arrived. Gauthier and Pelchat each took about 40 pounds and distributed the remainder among relatives and friends. The warehouse stocks were resold to Bernier.

Incidence of the three men, taken in French, occupied practically the whole afternoon sitting of the committee. Shortly before adjournment the committee was informed by Bernier's officials of Canada Pacific in connection with charges that second-grade butter is being sold in Montreal as first-grade butter.

NO CHILDREN WORRIES HERE

WORCESTER, Mass., April 9.—(AP)—Alexander Charkowski's tenants need not worry about having children.

His lease to Mr. and Mrs. Corrado Gaudin, married yesterday, contains a clause that the Charkowskis will contribute $25 toward a stork fund if the Gaudins have their first-born while living in Charkowski's house.

No Elaboration On Action Planned

WINNIPEG, April 9.—(CP)—Premier Stuart Gordon said Thursday he could not elaborate on any course of action Manitoba and six other provinces might take at their meeting in Ottawa April 24 to discuss the 21-percent increase in freight rates.

The Manitoba leader said that since seven premiers were to discuss as a panel at that meeting, he considered it "unfair" to the other premiers if he offered any comment now which might compromise any decisions reached at the conference.

He felt the legislation would give the old veterans some assurance that his country would provide some defense against poverty.

George Cruikshank (L-Fraser Valley) said he believed that the Imperials and those veterans who had served only in Britain should get the allowance.

Mechanization Comes To Canada's Collieries

By Ray Timson

VANCOUVER, April 9. — (CP) — Mechanization has effectively invaded Canada's collieries. For the Canadian householder it means more and cheaper coal.

Modern machinery, now in high gear in many pits, also eases ailing hands by doing miners and decreases their long hours of arduous labor.

J. A. Brunet, vice-president of Western Canada Collieries at Blairmore, Alta., yesterday told delegates to the 30th anniversary convention here of the Canadian Association of Mining and Metallurgy that the first flame-proof diesel locomotive on the North American continent operates at his Adams mine.

CUTS DEADLY GASES

The locomotive, whose exhaust gases are cooled and whose fuel is mixed with fresh air, sharply curtails the invisible death dealers in Canadian coal mines—carbon monoxide and noxious gases.

The diesel is used for economical haulage of coal in bituminous mines where the old electric trolley method is useless because of gas.

R. H. Dickson, superintendent of Princess Mine at Sydney, N.S., Canada's oldest submarine colliery, said hand-picked crews of 25 men are required to replace the long conventional operations.

CONVENTION ENDS

The institute convened yesterday and the 1400 delegates entrained for excursions to British Columbia's Fraser Valley and to special boats for a Gulf of Georgia cruise.

The convention was the largest in the history of British Columbia and in the 50-year life of the institute.

Impressario Dies

LONDON, April 9. — (AP) — Eric Wolfelin, 68, theatrical impresario who first brought Sarah Bernhardt to Canada, died in a nursing home Thursday.

A meeting will be held in Kansas City May 4 to estimate the number of Canadian machines required in the U.S. this summer. It will be attended by representatives of all the major grain-producing states, the federal labor department and the interested provinces.

He didn't become too angry when his passengers let the air out of the tires and kicked in a few windows. But exploding a firecracker under his seat was too much.

Yesterday the startled students found themselves abruptly in front of police headquarters where four detectives climbed aboard. The subdued students rode peacefully to school.

Navigation Season May Be Postponed

TORONTO, April 9. — (CP) — A spokesman for Toronto road and shipping companies may have to delay the scheduled April 15 opening of the navigation season because of a shortage of coal.

An official of the Upper Lakes and St. Lawrence Shipping Company said his firm has laid off a number of officers and men and the firm will not be able to start operations April 15.

Their own records, introduced in court, showed at least 1,000,000 loaves. The prosecution held that maybe 2,000,000 died from their bullets or in their gas vans.

Turner Fund Now $9,500

TORONTO, April 9. — (CP) — A benevolent fund to aid the wife and family of the late Canon John H. Turner has reached $9,500 of a $20,000 objective, Dr. H. M. Speechley of Winnipeg announced yesterday.

Death Looms for Nazis Guilty of Mass Murder

By Thomas A. Reedy

NUERNBERG, April 9. — (AP) — Twenty officers of Hitler's SS (Elite Guard) today were convicted of wholesale murder in an American finding so biting that the death penalty for many seemed inescapable. Sentences will be announced Saturday.

A three-judge court found them guilty on all three counts of an indictment charging the killing of at least 1,000,000 Jews, Gypsies and others classified by the Nazis as racial undesirables. Only two of the 22 men in the dock were found innocent in any degree.

The judgment summed up the counts as "planned murder." The conviction was the most all-embracing in the history of the Nuernberg war-crimes trial.

CAPTAIN ACQUITTED

One SS captain was found innocent of all three charges because he once shot the SS and got back into it only through the draft.

Convicted of all three counts were four SS generals, 13 colonels, three majors and one lieutenant.

They were commanding officers of the Einsatzkommandos. These were units, none of more than 200 men, established by Reinhard Heydrich, chief of the security service. They were sent into Russia behind the rampaging German armies to wipe out whole classes of people Hitler and Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler thought were better off dead.

Mainly they exterminated Jews.

During the war he served with the Royal Canadian Navy. Following the war he was a surgeon at the Lancaster Hospital, St. John N.B., and at Deer Lodge Hospital, Winnipeg.

Election Sabotage By Reds Checked

Italian Police Moving Swiftly To Stamp Out Irregularities

By Philip Clarke

ROME, April 9.—(AP)—Pro-government newspapers said last night that police were moving swiftly to stamp out illegal Communist attempts to sabotage election lists and purchase voting certificates.

This general's daughter is going to marry a sergeant. She is the Italian Communist daughter of Gen. Giuseppe Chiosso, who was killed in the April 18 election which is being conducted on the issue of Communism.

AGENTS ARRESTED
Most of Rome's major newspapers, excepting left-wing organs, carried dispatches telling of the arrest of agents allegedly engaged in selling certificates in the south.

A dispatch from Trento said the Communist mayor of the nearby town of San Giovanni and his secretary were arrested. The two were accused of cancelling names from election lists and transferring the residences of others to "deprive citizens of the right to vote."

The dispatch said police were investigating reports of the sale of some voting certificates for the equivalent of $5.50 in the city of Martina Franca.

IRREGULARITIES
The independent rightist newspaper, Il Giornale D'Italia reported pre-election irregularities in Cosenza and Salerno. It said police had arrested a Communist at Cosenza and charged him with buying up electoral certificates.

Carabinieri uncovered another hidden army cache near Milan, including mortars. Three men were arrested. Other recent arm discoveries, particularly in the north, have been linked by pro-government sources to left wing underground preparations.

Some newspaper said the Allied military government in the Italian-American zone of Trieste has announced it will turn back full administration of city and some civilian affairs to the Italians April 12.

However, the Allied military government in Trieste said merely that a limited amount of power is being transferred to local civilian hands.

"Leftist" Purposes Behind Campaign Is Board's Charge

VANCOUVER, April 9.—(CP)—

The executive committee of the Vancouver Board of Trade Thursday charged the British Columbia Housewives Consumers Association was using its "voluntary price campaign for its own leftist purposes."

In a letter to board members, the executive declared the association's campaign is "to stir class hatred and national discontent."

It suggested the real leadership of the organization is "outside Canada." Enough to know their demands... are completely impracticable.

The Housewives Consumers Association plans to petition Ottawa shortly seeking lower food prices and curbs on high living costs.

MORE HEALTH SEEN FROM ATOM STUDY

ORONO, Me., April 9.—(AP)—Healthier people and new plant strains that can withstand rusts and fungi may emerge from atomic energy experiments, Summer T. Pike said Thursday.

"The possible role of radioactive elements in the field of genetics would appear to offer tremendous opportunities, and such studies are currently going on with corn and mice and other animals," Pike said.

Radio tracers, he said, are being used to study habits of insects, fungicides, bactericides and weed killers. Investigators want to find out "how these products go about their deadly business" and if possible to make them more efficient.

U.S. Dollars for Canada Not Certain Under Plan

OTTAWA, April 9.—(CP)—There is no reason at present for the government to believe Canada will get American dollars through the Marshall plan, even with her overseas exports, a source said yesterday. He said further:

1. That it would be "surprising" if Canada committed herself to 1948 aid to Europe beyond the roughly $100,000,000 left in credits already extended to such European countries as France, Belgium, The Netherlands and others. Credits originally amounted to nearly $600,000,000 but the balance was used up or committed.

2. It would be "surprising" too, if Paul Hoffman, president Truman's administrator of the Marshall Plan, handed Canada's wheat contracts with Britain from the list of things under the plan. It has been suggested that the four-year Canadian wheat pact would be barred on grounds that it was a long-range program for internal Canadian economic stability.

EXPORTS COVERED
The source said there was no doubt that a list of Canada's export reports would be covered by the plan. The government had no way of knowing what percentage would be covered until Mr. Hoffman gave his attention to proposals placed before him by Canada.

The administrator would have the power to decide just what access to U.S. dollars Canada must have to remain economically stable, and thus, able to continue her contribution to Europe.

The source's cautious statement far paralleled to other government statements which sought to prevent any belief that Canada's chief interest in the plan was for this country on an American "gray train."

First Issue Flays Wanderers, Promises Modern Newspaper

"Any deviation from the Special Credit philosophies enunciated by Major Douglas" constitutes a perversion that cannot fail to bring forth disaster."

This warning is voiced in the first issue of the Social Credit Challenge, "official organ of the Edmonton Council of the Douglas Social Credit movement of Canada."

Publication date of the first issue was Thursday. It does not specify whether the paper will be weekly or monthly.

Articles in the paper deal with the history of the growth of the Douglas Social Credit Council including the ousting of John Patrick Gillies as editor of the Canadian Social Credit and the banning of "anti-Semitic articles" by Norman James, Social Credit MP for Westsaskatoon from the columns of that paper.

Mr. Gillies is editor of the paper and in a front-page story tells his readers of the intention to build the Challenge "into a modern stream-lined newspaper."

The paper explains the purpose of the Douglas Social Credit Council as non-political.

It charges many professing Social Credit have abandoned Social Credit for the "political expedient."

In other news columns it advocates the formation of Douglas Societies.

Crown Drops Charge Against Gamblers

Charges against nine Edmonton Chinese who were arrested in an alleged gambling house at 10130 97 street at 1:15 p.m. Saturday were withdrawn by the crown when they appeared in police court Thursday afternoon.

Two of the accused George Mah and Kail Wong, were charged as "keepers" of a gambling house while the other seven, Wong Mah, Chung Wong, Sing Wong, See Mah, Lau, and Kail Wong, were charged as "found men."

At a hearing on April 5 the nine men reserved pleas to the charges and received an adjournment until Thursday.

In asking that the charges against the nine Chinese be dropped crown prosecutor Donald Mason, failed to reserve pleas to the charges.

The city police morality section who made the raid later revealed "that further investigations showed eight of the men were residents of the premises raided and as a result there was insufficient evidence to establish a case."

Mrs. Johnston stressed immigration as one of Canada's greater needs. "Increased immigration cannot be secured for unimproved," she said, warning against Communist infiltration.

Members of many chapters have attended naturalization ceremonies and some have given talks on the duties of citizenship and forms of government to new Canadians.

Mrs. A. W. Blecher, reporting on post-war services, stated that the need for new and used clothing overseas is as great as ever. She named many new projects undertaken by the IODE, among them adoption of British children, clothing of nursery boys and gift parcels and support of the Queen Elizabeth fund.

The objective of $200,000 for the provincial fund is hoped to be reached by 1950, according to Mrs. D. J. Morrison who reported on the program of the fund.

Mrs. M. H. Huckle, convener of the auxiliary committee to the Canadian National Institute for the blind, reported on the program of the year.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Wives Ask Sympathy Enjoy Being Martyrs

One of the most inexpressible of all feminine characteristics is that practically all women have a morbid craving for sympathy.

No matter if they possess all the good things of life and if there isn't even a crumpled rose leaf under their 40 matresses of ease, they still want to be pitied. And that is a strange desire, since pity always carries with it condescension and patronage.

In reality, there is nothing harder to endure than to have people sorry for us, but nonetheless there are few women who can resist the temptation to be wept over and "poor"ed.

Of course, women have cheered up a bit since they have more interest in life than they used to have.

Our maidens now don't pine away and die of a green, and yellow melancholy when their lover finally ditches them.

Now do they make a cult of invalidism and spend their days on a couch, waiting for death with a sad, sweet, patient smile.

But all the same, women are still wedded to the idea that to be really "rich" for a girl to be gay and jolly and full of fun, and that you had better keep your eye on a woman who tells funny stories and has a laugh that is as big as a hair-trigger.

Why it is as mad as a hatter to be anybody that it is to be merry, nobody knows, but, in spite of all evidence to the contrary, women still think that the women who never "get over" things are to be trusted, and the ones who swallow their tears and ball a smile on their faces and carry on about the business of life.

EXPLAINS FEMININE VAGARIES

This explains, in a way, many of the curious vagaries of the feminine character. It is the desire to be pitied, for instance, that explains why so many wives are guilty of the heinous crime of blushing all the more of their husbands' misdeeds.

Nothing is more appalling than the fact that many a wife weeps her whole married life for the gratification she gets out of posing as a martyr and having everybody refer to her as that "poor, poor, poor" woman.

It is certainly astonishing that, in the majority of hard-working, kind, generous, housebroken, kind, gentle, and kind women, they are going about weeping on any shoulder that will stand for it while they smother the sad and story of how their husbands neglect them, and what a terrible mistake they made in marrying a businessman instead of a millionaire.

Worse still is the crime that women commit when, in order to get the spotlight turned on them and to acquire the reputation of being noble and heroic mothers who sacrifice themselves to their wayward children, they drag all of the family skeletons out of the closet, and tell things that they should have their tongue cut out for even mentioning.

Many and many a mother starts the scandal on her own daughter that ruins the girl's life by saying that she is to be sold to a man.

Many and many a mother blackens her son's name by always having on some little fault the last has until he gets his reputation of being a noble and heroic mother.

Why women get a kick out of exploiting their family troubles, no one can tell. But they do. There is nothing they enjoy so much as to be pitied, and yet they have to pay a terrible price for it.

Check the thermometer before applying your lipstick. Josephine Lowman tells you why. Actress Lisabeth Scott tells you how.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

(THE FRIDAY QUESTION BOX)

A reader says: "It seems to me that the temperature of a lipstick when applied is very important. What are your suggestions about this?"

A. What you say is very true. In cold weather the lipstick may be too firm to go on smoothly. On the other hand, if it is dripping, it will not hold. In cold weather place your lipstick tube in the refrigerator for a few minutes before using it. In a cool place (if the temperature is very hot) it will be too soft and it will melt out a short time before it is applied. Successful application depends on this.

Q. "I am fourteen years of age, five feet and one inch tall, and weigh 132 pounds. My bust measures 37 inches, my hips 44 inches, and my arms 41 inches. Please tell me where I need to lose and how I can do so."

A. The first factor is you are about forty pounds overweight. Many young girls are somewhat overweight at your age. However, I suggest that you have a physical examination to determine whether or not your overweight is due to a glandular deficiency or just too much food and too little exercise. The great amount of overweight suggests the former.

If you have a glandular deficiency you could exercise all day long and diet more than is good for you, and still remain overweight. You need certain foods for health. I think you should see a doctor and turn yourself over to him for supervision in dieting. Of course, it is possible that your too many pounds may come from the habit of stuffing yourself on candy and pies and cakes and heavenly things—but I doubt it. See your physician and find out what is wrong, because you can control your weight with medication prescribed by a doctor, and proper diet and exercise.

Q. "My sister and I would like to go to college. What can we do about it?"

A. You should gain about seven pounds. Your bust and hips are in perfect proportion. During the gaining period I suggest that you take the same exercises as you are now, but add a few more. You will like the exercises and you will need exercise in any sport you want to do.

Your sister is about fifteen pounds overweight. She is probably an inebriated patient in figure which shows in her also. Let her take the same exercises as you, but add a few more. You both need to gain weight. You both need to gain weight. You both need to gain weight.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Adolescence Is Period "Independent" Behavior

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

When parents have all the right answers for their children it is difficult for them to let their children know when children disappoint them. Knowing their own rightness they forget that during adolescence the child's chief goal is to cut himself free from parental upon him.

In so doing, the behavior may be violently antagonistic.

Mrs. K. is not allowing for the changes that are inevitable as children grow. She writes, "My husband and I are quiet, home-loving people. We reared our daughter to be the nicest kind of girl, manly, affectionate, with high ideals, until she attended junior high school for a year."

"Now she is extremely rude, not only to us but to everyone else. We have tried every conceivable way to correct her, but she openly turns on us and says others act that way and we are behind the times."

"But I heartily disagree with your article which says that parents are to blame. So don't you think that there should be a drive to teach young people that Mothers and Dads are right and respect in rather than to attack them?"

First of all, you disagree with the high school teacher who wrote the letter I printed in my column.
